WESTLAKE AUTHOR MAKES QUANTUM LEAP

November 10, 2007 - Radio Television Interview Report (RTIR) based in Philadelphia announced today that January Jones who has resided for 39 years in Westlake Village and Thousand Oaks has been named one of the winners of the "I Made A Quantum Leap" contest. The competition was the culmination of the one-year mentorship program created by the Steve and Bill Harrison the founders of RTIR.

There are over one hundred participants in the Quantum Leap Program from all over the world representing divergent entrepreneurship. The winners were chosen and evaluated by three independent judges composed of Michael Capuzzi, President of Persistent Marketing, Inc., Julie Taylor, President of JAD Coaching and Consulting, Inc. and Jim Palmer, President of Dynamic Communications, Inc.

The criteria for the competition was based on demonstration of the principles taught in The Quantum Leap Program, the participants compelling story of success and the clarity of writing. There were four finalists with cash prizes awarded and ten runner-ups.

Ms. Jones is the self-proclaimed "Whine Tester" and expert on how to stop whining. She is the host of a radio show called The Whine Tester on bigMediaUSA.com. January's show is based on her soon to be published book called Thou Shalt Not Whine...The Eleventh Commandment Beaufort Books 2008. It features a new guest each week with amazing and humorous stories on whining and surviving. All of January's future interviews are posted at the www.bigmediausa.com and www.januaryjones.com.

Congratulations January Jones
